Damien Hirst recently created this work to support the British National Health Service (NHS) during the Corona Crisis. The work, titled "Butterfly Heart", consists of strips of coloured butterfly wings, one of the artist's best-known subjects.

All profits generated by the sale will be donated to the National Health Service: "I wanted to do something to pay tribute to the wonderful work NHS staff are doing in hospitals around the country. The rainbow is a sign of hope and I think it is brilliant that parents and children are creating their own version and putting them up in the windows of their homes," the British artist states.

Hirst's "Butterfly Heart" is digitally numbered and signed.

Laminated Giclée print, 2020. Edition: 1,698 copies on aluminium composite panel, signed and dated on the back. Size 70 x 73 cm.
