

Emil Nolde: Picture "Nude with Bobbing Legs" (1908)

Product no.: IN-949661.R1

From the beginning of his artistic career, Nolde had not only explored painting and drawing, but also printmaking. He created a total of around 500 etchings, woodcuts and lithographs during his career.

What set him apart from many of his contemporaries was that he developed his prints more from the perspective of a painter and thus worked with very soft lines. In this way, the present work, with its harmonious contours and various shades of grey, gives the impression of a drawing or painting rather than an etching.
